Game in Boston Today Is Turning Point in Title Series Clashes

A Red Sox Victory Over Alexander Would Put Big "Crimp" in Phillies' Chances to Annex World Championship. Expect Repeat of Braves if Quakers Win.

By WILLIAM PEET.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—If the Boston Red Sox beat Alexander here tomorrow, the pennant fight will be over. If on the other hand, the Phillies are phia in this current world series which is able to win behind the big Nebraskan, then it is conceded that Pat Moran's engaged at present in commuting on the New York, New Haven, and Hartford. crowd has a mighty good chance to repeat the success of the Boston Braves in 1914.

Tomorrow's game will be the turning point in the present world series scrap and all Boston is aglow with excitement and on edge for the big battle.

"Dutch" Leonard, Carrigan's best southpaw, is groomed for slab duty tomorrow, according to information sent out from the Red Sox camp, but there are many who believe Carrigan will change his mind at the last minute and pitch either Joe Wood or Ernie Shore, for the reason that the Red Sox right-handers have thus far been mighty effective against the National Leaguers.

The writer came up on the train from Philadelphia with the Moran club last night, the Red Sox were also aboard and the reception which Boston fans accorded the club here this morning will not soon be forgotten.

Headed by a brass band playing that well-known war song, "Tessie," the Royal Rooters started the procession from the train shed to the Back Bay station, where a throng of several thousand fans had gathered.

Boston, Oct. 10.-The hope of Philadelgrows. It grew at least four pounds to

The hope of Philadelphia weighed in at about 185 pounds on the O'Sullivan at 6 p. m. and approximately 189 pounds an hour later when the inhalation of a sirloin steak and accessories had been con pleted. After which the hope of Phila-delphia slipped the walter the conventional dime, secured a toothpick and went out in front of the Copley Square Hotel to see what could be seen.

In mentioning the hope of Philadelphia in the world series we refer, of course, to Grover Cleveland Alexander, alias the Great. If Philadelphia has anygother hope in this world series, it isn't discern-ible to the naked eye. Not at present writing, anyway-not right this very mir

Phillies Have Scored More Runs on Less Hits Than Boston Red Sox. By FRANK G. MENKE.

Boston, Oct. 10.-Many strange records were made during these first two clashes in the battle for the baseball championship of the world, but the strangest of all is that the Phillies have scored more runs on eight hits than the Red Sox have on eighteen. This fact, and several others shown clusion that if the Phillies connect with their overdue batting streak, and all other things remain equal, it will bode ill for the championship hopes of the Red Hoseil warriors from Boston The Red Sox have hammered the of-ermics of Alexander and Mayer to all ortions of the field-except in pinches. And there they have failed miserably. They haven't shown the timely wallop;

But the Red Sox have not had to field under an almost constant nervous tension, as have the Phillies. A fielder always plays with more confidence and more naturalness when the bases are not occupied. He is not nervous and the possibility of his making a under penalty of a score for the other side. They have bobbled twice, but only once was it in a crisis. The Sox fielders, on the other hand, have not been so placid. Their pitchers have permitted only a rare few Phillies to get on the bases. During only two of the nine innings of yesterday's game were there any Phillies on bases, and only five times in Friday's same. That's a total of seven out of the seventeen played in so far.

One of the oddest things about both games has been the fact that not a double-play has been made. The Phillies have been given four opportunities to execute one, and the Sox seven; yet neither has accomplished the trick. Each side has stolen one base up to date, but neither had a stolen base in Saturday's game, nor was a sacrifice made. The first long hit of the series wasn't made until the fifth inning of th second game, and no one has hit out

Another little oddity is that a pitcher is leading each side in the clubbing. Foster, with three hits out of four in Satur him a .333 average, which tops his tean
